From the Editor

It's been a busy week. The pain in my back and leg is down, and I can sit for long enough to get some work done. I've put together a couple of new web sites and made significant inroads on my newest e-book *8>)

I thought that I would go back to the basics this week, and take a look at why any of us would bother setting up our own business, be it on the Internet or not. *8>(

The last I looked, there were only a few discounts left for my adaptation of the full featured $7 Script. If you don't have it yet, grab it HERE today before the price goes up.

Top Five Reasons to Work at Home

A lot of people are turning to work at home opportunities these days, and Internet Marketing is definitely possible as a work at home opportunity. They are giving up their 9 to 5 outside of the home jobs and making a living from their computer chair. There are a lot of reasons that people are choosing to do this, and here are the top five.

- 1. You make your own hours – At a regular job, you must be there at a certain time, and you're not able to leave until your time is up. You might get an hour for lunch in the middle of the day, but that's about it. When you work at home for yourself, you can start working and quit working whenever you choose. You can also take off for a couple of hours to run errands, do house work, or pick up the kids from school. You would never be able to get away with this at a regular job. If you decide that next week you want to take off and go on vacation, no problem. You're the one you have to answer to, no one else. This is one of the greatest reasons to work at home.
- 2. You decide how much you make – With most work at home opportunities, you are able to make the amount of money you want. Depending upon how much time you want to invest, and how efficient and smart you work, you can make what you want to make. At a regular job, you are limited to your hourly pay, or your weekly salary. Most normal jobs don't want you to have overtime if you are paid hourly, and if you are paid salary, you will probably work a lot of hours and still make the same amount of money. With a work at home job, the every hour you work will definitely count, and you can work as many or as few hours as you wish.

- 3. Be at home with the kids – This is great for people with children. You are able to be at home with the kids while you are still earning an income for the family. This means that you don't have to have a babysitter every time you go to work, which will save you money. Also, spending more time with the kids is an important goal of a lot of parents these days. With a regular job, by the time work is finished, the household chores are taken care of, and other important things are completed, there is just no time to play or hang out with the kids. When you work at home, you are able to be at home with the kids. You teach them YOUR values rather than them learning the values of their caretaker or sitter, and you can have much more time with them.
- 4. Earn extra money during holidays – At a regular job, you usually have to take away from your regular earnings during holidays or other days when the office is closed. When you work at home, and want to earn some extra money during the holidays, you can simply invest a few more hours and make the extra money you need. You don't have to dip into your grocery or bill money to buy gifts.
- 5. Make more money to begin with – When you decide to work at home, there are so many things available to you. On the Internet, you are connected to the world in a way that you never can be at a regular job. The opportunities you can find are numerous, and there are chances to make so much more money than you can with a regular job. This means that you can live the life you have always wanted for your family and for yourself.
